Analyzing sales, share & growth to benefit your business

Challenge activity

Analyzing sales, share & growth to benefit your business

Objective

In this challenge, you will put into practice what you've learned through the job aids and videos on this site.

While evaluating sales, share and growth, use the questions in step one to guide you through your data. In step two, access and analyze your own NielsenIQ pre-built reports to better understand a high level view of the market through sales, share and growth.

The reports in this document are for representation only. Please use your own pre-existing reports to complete this challenge.

Step one: Use these questions to guide you through your sales, share & growth analysis.

When analyzing sales, share and growth, consider these key business questions below. Use your answers to evaluate your performance versus your business goals, benchmark your strengths or weaknesses, and recognize key opportunities:

1. How big is the market?
2. Is the market growing or declining? Is there inflation or deflation?
3. What is the largest segment?
4. What are the fastest growing segments?
5. What brands account for the majority of sales?
6. Who are the winning brands? Who are the losing brands?
7. Do all players compete in all segments?
8. Are trends the same across the channels?
9. How is the market developed across the regions? And how are the regions performing?
10. What's driving the category and your brand's performance?

Step two: Investigate pre-existing reports in your NielsenIQ solution to work through & interpret your data on which you can take action.

Leaders from your organization have worked with NielsenIQ to build a holistic set of reports that you can use at-a-glance to evaluate sales, share and growth. Explore your own NielsenIQ pre-built reports to answer the questions below, using any category or segment of your choice.

1. When evaluating your sales, share and growth, start with value sales.

Using a similar report below, determine how big your category is in value and volume, and if your sales growth or decline is in line with the market.

Step two (continued): Investigate pre-existing reports in your NielsenIQ solution to work through & interpret your data on which you can take action.

2. Analyze your sales change, and your competitor's performance, by answering these questions:

- What brands are growing the most?
- Which brands are driving my overall sales performance?
- Are there brands driving positive and negative sales performance for the category?

% Chg. Value vs. Year Ago
12.2	6.3	-0.2	-5.0

Step two (continued): Investigate pre-existing reports in your NielsenIQ solution to work through & interpret your data on which you can take action.

3. Compare your market share across channels using a similar report below:
 - What is the biggest channel? How big is it?
 - What channel is driving your sales growth?
 - And what percentage of contribution to your sales growth does this channel have?
 - What channel represents the biggest sales opportunities for your brand?
 - Is the share change significant? Use this document if you're unsure.

	Value (in M EUR)	Chg. Value vs. Year Ago (in M EUR)	% Chg. Value vs. Year Ago (in %)
Total	1,976.4	52.3	2.7

Additional questions:

1. To fully evaluate sales, share and growth, what additional questions will you need to answer?
2. What do your own pre-existing reports help you learn about your business performance and opportunities?

Analyze distribution, sales, share & growth, pricing and promotional data for a more comprehensive view into key areas that are driving overall growth or decline.
